USO VARIETY SHOW in Palm Springs Thursday, March 26, 2015

Round up your troops and hop on board for a fabulous day. Join us for a special tour to Palm Springs. Hollywood's "desert playground" is hosting the USO Variety Show, paying tribute to Bob Hope and his band of Hollywood Gypsies. Bob Hope performed his first USO show in nearby March Field on May 6, 1941. For nearly 50 years, he entertained our troops from his first show in Saudi Arabia to his final tour to Bahrain. The beautiful girls of "Company B" will perform their tribute to The Andrews Sisters and other songs from the WW11, Korea and Vietnam eras. This is a light-hearted musical remembering an American legend, and those wonderful USO shows that entertained American soldiers overseas. Filled with the music you know and love, jokes that you've heard before, it's a wonderful show produced at the Palm Springs Air Museum. The show finale is a stirring performance by Company B and a surprise tribute that will bring the house down. We will have lunch at the Palm Springs Hilton Terrace Restaurant before heading over to the variety show.
